ERIC EISELT
Developer

I am an enthusiastic aspiring (web) developer. Including my education, I have been involved in programming for about 5 years and more intensively with computer technology as a passion in general for about 20 years. I have gained most of my experience in front-end development in the Javascript environment and in .NET technologies.
The information on this CV can also be found on my latest project, a small Next.js profile page at https://eric-eiselt.netlify.app/en/home.
